While chilly winds whipped the flags they held aloft, more than 100 uniformed veterans took part Sunday afternoon in the annual joint Veterans' Day services held in the National Cemetery in observance of the memory of the nation's more than 27,000,000 men and women who have served in all the nation's wars since the revolution.

Earl R. Sollenberger, York, central vice commander of the American Legion, the principal speaker, told the group: "Today, in time of peace, we should use the ennobling virtues of war and put behind us its ugliness and suffering. In peace we shall go forward together to scale new heights of achievement in unity of purpose, in sacrifice for the common good, in tolerance for those of different faiths and creeds, in bravery to fight for social and economic gains and in the discipline of good citizenship, that we shall move forward in the sight of God as a strong nation in a peaceful world."

He added, "Today we call upon all citizens and more so the veterans to help the government save us and our children and the whole world from the nightmare that hangs over our heads. We have to build and develop atomic weapons until sound agreements can be reached, but we must work out a solution to save the world from a war in which there would be no winners, only losers, with whole sections of the world unfit for habitation. Out of blood and sweat we learned of purpose, sacrifice, tolerance, bravery and discipline. These are the solid foundation stones upon which a great nation is built. In peace we must cultivate these virtues."

McDermitt Presides

Patrick Dale McDermitt, commander of Gettysburg Post 15, Veterans of Foreign Wars, presided at the services held at the Soldiers National Monument in the National Cemetery.

Raymond Strohm, past commander of the VFW, served as chaplain. John A. Gulse, commander of the Albert J. Lentz Post of the American Legion, introduced the speaker and served as the commander for the ritual service held by the Legion and VFW at the close of the speaking portion of the service.

president of the Auxiliary of Post 202 American Legion; Miss Ruth Miller, president of the Auxiliary of Post 15 VFW, and Raymond Strohm.

Louis Yeager, at 10 o'clock. Interment will be in the church cemetery. Friends may visit Wednesday evening from 7 to 9 at the funeral home. The Rosary will be recited there Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

HOPE FLICKERS FOR 44 LOST

With Big Plane In Pacific

HONOLULU (AP)—Hope of rescuing any of the 44 persons missing since Friday night on a vanished Pan American stratuocruiser in the Pacific virtually flickered out today.

Three flares sighted last night were probably "shooting stars" or from other search aircraft, a Coast Guard spokesman said. "They were flight flares and that's always kind of doubtful" as a distress signal.

Investigation of the flares continued after daybreak as part of a gigantic search operation covering 172,440 square miles of the ocean.

No Trace Of Plane

But no trace of the missing plane, "Romance of the Skies," had been found at daylight today, more than 2½ days after last word from the huge Flying Clipper.

Additional search aircraft flew out from Oahu Island at daylight to join the Pacific's greatest air-sea rescue mission; planes, helicopters, submarines, the aircraft

Hospital Visiting Ban Is Removed

The Warner Hospital today lifted its ban on visitors imposed 20 days ago when the epidemic of gripe and flu through the area began reaching its heights.

Walter B. Dillon, administrator at the hospital, said physicians were of the opinion that the epidemic has now subsided and as a result visitation is once again permitted at the hospital.

He added that because of the anticipated second "wave" of the epidemic, the restriction will again be placed "if the situation again flares up."

While visitation is again allowed, Dillon said the hospital staff urges persons who may have colds or respiratory troubles to remain away from the hospital because of the danger of transmission of the diseases to patients.

WILL OBSERVE 90TH BIRTHDAY

Edward J. Pfeffer, Baltimore St., will celebrate his 90th birthday on Tuesday. He was born November 12, 1867, on a farm off the Fairfield Rd. in the rear of the State Police barracks.

He operated a brick yard where the National Museum is now located.

He made bricks for the Gettysburg College chapel, Bruna Hall, Glatfelter Hall, McKnight Hall, buildings at Mt. St. Mary's and St. Joseph College, Emmitsburg. The bricks were taken to the Maryland schools by teams, but an auxiliary team of horses had to be stabled in Emmitsburg by Mr. Pfeffer to help carry the heavy load over a steep hill.

Mr. Pfeffer lost his brick business by condemnation by the U.S. because of its proximity to the battlefield. The case was carried to the U.S. Supreme Court but was lost.

In 1905 he acquired a half-interest in the Gettysburg Drain Tile Company from Charles Speece and 13 years later acquired the entire interest. He retired June 1, 1951, and the business is operated by a son, Fred G. Pfeffer. The elder Pfeffer continues in an advisory capacity.

FRATERNITY TO MARK BIRTHDAY OVER WEEKEND

More than 200 alumni and their wives are expected to attend the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity 100th anniversary on the Gettysburg College campus.

Festivities will start Friday evening with a stag at the chapter house.

The planting of the Centennial tree in the Harry Stahl Memorial Gardens will take place at 11:30 o'clock Saturday morning with John S. Rice officiating. A buffet for alumni and their wives at the chapter house will follow.

The football game with Temple is the main attraction for Saturday afternoon with the Fijis and their wives marching to Memorial Field behind the Gettysburg College band. Following the game, a reception will be held at the Gettysburg Country Club with the "Bud" Codori octet furnishing the music.

Two Dinners Saturday

National officers of the fraternity are expected to attend the centennial dinner Saturday evening in the Hotel Gettysburg annex. Samuel B. Shirk, class of 1937 and assistant to the President of Albright College, will be the toastmaster. Greetings will be brought by the undergraduate chapter, national fraternity, and the college. A toast to Harry Stahl, whose generosity to Xi Chapter made the present chapter house possible, will be made by the group. The annex is being decorated by the Wayside Flower Shop.

A "Sweetheart" dinner for the wives of the alumni will be held in the chapter house. Guests of honor will include wives of national officers and widows and mothers of Xi.

A buffet Sunday noon will conclude the celebration.

Mercury Hits New Low This Morning

Temperatures dropped to a new low for this fall this morning when an official reading of 24 degrees was taken at the Gettysburg Times Weather Station. Sunday morning's low was 29 degrees and Sunday's high reading was only nine degrees above freezing — 41 degrees.

This morning's low was a carbon copy of the low reading for the morning of November 11 last year.

By 9 o'clock today the mercury had climbed to 33 degrees with a little warmer weather predicted for Tuesday after another chilly night.

ASK RETURN OF C. C. BALLOTS

Members of the Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce were asked today to return the ballots sent them by Tuesday and to make reservations by Wednesday for the annual dinner of the C. C. to be held Thursday evening at 6 o'clock at Banker's Restaurant.

Members of the chamber are asked to nominate six directors from which three will be elected at Thursday evening's meeting. The ballots must be returned by Tuesday to permit the nominating committee to count the votes and prepare ballots for Thursday's election.

President LeRoy Smith said the dinner Thursday evening will be free to members of the Chamber of Commerce. The members may bring their wives or husbands at a charge of $1.50 a plate for guests.

A motion picture produced by the United States Chamber of Commerce entitled "The Atom Comes to Town" will be shown at the dinner through arrangements with the York C. of C.

WARNS HUNTERS FROM BOROUGH LANDS ON CREEK

Hunters today were warned that the land east of Fourth St. from a line drawn directly east from Broadway to Rock Creek is in the borough and persons hunting in the woods along Rock Creek at that point are liable to a $50 fine for hunting within the town limits.

Chief of Police Jack Bartlett said the attention of borough police had been called to the violation by residents of the northeastern section of the town who further reported that shot had struck, some of the homes in that area as eager hunters failed to observe the 150-yard law concerning homes. The windshield of a car parked on E. Barlow St. was cracked by two pellets, police said.

Chief Bartlett said the hunters' attention was also called to the violation because of the number of small children who reside in the area and many of whom use the woods to the east of Fourth St. north of the Tiber as a play area.

The borough line from the eastern terminus of Broadway at Fourth St., to the junction of the Tiber and Rock Creek. The line then runs along Rock Creek to the battlefield land on the southeastern part of town.

Hunters who wish to avoid fines must stay 150 yards north of the borough line, because of homes near the borough line, and must stay on the east side of Rock Creek around the town. On the western, southern and northern sides of the town there has been little danger from hunters because the areas are built up and are adjoined by battlefield property on which hunting is also forbidden.

SON FINDS HIS MOTHER DEAD

Mrs. Nettie Virginia Hyser, 72, widow of Ervin R. Hyser, was found dead in bed at her home in Taneytown Sunday morning by her son, Luther Halter, who resides in the adjoining portion of a double house. Death is believed to have been due to a heart attack.

She was a daughter of the late John and Margaret (Slonaker) Carl and was a member of the Taneytown EUB Church and Sunday School. Her first husband, William H. Halter, died some time ago.

Surviving are her husband; three children by her first marriage: Mrs. Clarence Fair, Westminster; Wilbur Halter, Uniontown, Md., and Luther Halter, Taneytown; nine grandchildren; two great-grandchildren; seven brothers and sisters, Wilbur Carl, Chambersburg; Mrs. Maurice Flickinger, Taneytown R. D.; Mrs. Elmer Reaver, Chambersburg; Hobart Carl, Chambersburg; Mrs. Virgie Feaser, Taneytown R. D.; Archie Carl, Taneytown R. D., and Lloyd Carl, Mayberry, Md.

Funeral services Wednesday at 2 p.m. at the Taneytown EUB Church conducted by her pastor, the Rev. Arthur W. Garvin. Interment in the Church of God Cemetery, Mayberry. Friends may call at the Fuss Funeral Home, Taneytown, Tuesday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock and at the church Wednesday from 1 p.m. until the time of the funeral.

Family Reunited After 3 Are Freed From Siberian Camp

CHICAGO (AP)—A reunited family today marked the end to 11 years of separation, 11 years spent by the American father in seeking to free his Lithuanian wife and two children from a Communist labor camp in Siberia.

William Gavcus, 47, a naturalized American, greeted his happy family at Midway Airport yesterday.

Seeing them for the first time in more than a decade, he was speechless with emotion.

Happiest Man In World

"Everything dimmed — I was in tears," he told newsmen.

"I'm just beginning to come to I am the happiest man in this whole, wide world. I do not have the words to express myself."

Monika, his 44-year-old wife, took it calmly. So did their daughter Rutha, 16, and son Romualda, 13. Neither Mrs. Gavcus nor the children speak English but they chatted happily in Russian and Lithuanian.

Gavcus married Monika in 1939 on a trip to his native country. He had to leave his family be-

Largest Gathering Of Catholic Hierarchy Is At Mount St. Mary's For Two-Day 150th Celebration

The Most Reverend Amleto G. Ciconnani (top), sixth apostolic delegate to the United States who will celebrate a solemn Pontifical High Mass in the Mt. St. Mary's College chapel Tuesday morning, and Msgr. William F. Culhane, vice president of Mount St. Mary's College and acting rector of the seminary, who will be assistant priest at the service.

The greatest assemblage of members of the Roman Catholic hierarchy is at Mount St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg, today and Tuesday to officially open the 150th anniversary of the founding of the college and seminary by Father John Dubois in 1808. Six archbishops including the Most Rev. Amleto G. Ciconnani, apostolic delegate to the United States, and the Most Reverend Paul Yu Pin, Nanking, China, head the list of 51 prelates who will take part in the opening activities. The 45 bishops are from 31 states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, the Philippine Islands and China.

The Harrisburg Diocese will be represented by the Most Reverend George L. Leech and the Most Reverend Lawrence J. F. Schott, many monsignori and priests. Representing Pennsylvania also will be the Most Rev. Joseph McShea, Philadelphia; the Most Rev. Jerome D. Hannan, Scranton, and the Most Rev. Nicholas Elko, Byzantine ex-archate of Pittsburgh. More than five hundred members of the clergy, including representatives of many religious orders and congregations, are also expected to attend.

Two-Day Celebration

The two-day celebration will begin with a dinner for the guests at 7 o'clock tonight at which the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Francis A. Costello, pastor of St. Mary's Church, Wilkes-Barre, and president of the Scranton Chapter of the National Alumni Association, will speak.

At 8 o'clock the solemn convocation honoring Archbishop Ciconnani and Bishop Richard O. Gerow, Natchez-Jackson, Miss., will be held in Flynn Hall which has been decorated with the episcopal shields of the various archdioceses served over the years by 37 Mount St. Mary's alumni. Honorary LL.D. degrees will be awarded the apostolic delegate and Bishop Gerow for their outstanding contributions to the American church.

Rt. Rev. Msgr. John L. Sheridan, LL.D., president of Mount St. Mary's will welcome the guests and Rev. Francis P. Kearney, dean of studies, will read the academic citations for Archbishop Ciconnani and Bishop Gerow, and present them to Msgr. Sheridan for their awards. His excellency, the apostolic delegate, will address the group.

The music for the convocation will be sung by the Schola Cantorum of Mount St. Mary's Seminary under the direction of Rev. Fr. David W. Shaum.

Reception Monday Night

Following the convocation a reception will be held in Bradley Hall. Tuesday morning the apostolic delegate will celebrate a Solemn Pontifical Mass of Thanksgiving in the Chapel of the Immaculate Conception. The Schola Cantorum will sing at which member of the College Council will assist. Bishop Gerow, a graduate of the Mount in 1904, and a bishop since 1924, will preach the sermon.

At the conclusion of the mass, members of the hierarchy and other guests will attend a luncheon in the (Continued On Page 2)

Report Death Of Space Dog

WASHINGTON (AP)—Death reportedly has claimed the Russian dog Laika, first earth creature to penetrate outer space.

The report of Laika's death was published today by the Italian Communist newspaper L'Unita, quoting its Moscow correspondent. It said Laika was "put to sleep by a strong narcotic contained in the last bite of food to avoid its suffering prolonged agony."

The headline said "Laika is Dead," although the story did not use those words. It said, "Laika will never return to earth." An early edition of the Rome newspaper quoted what it said was an official Moscow announcement of the dog's death. But the final edition did not mention an official announcement.

There was no direct word from Moscow on Laika's fate, but the Soviet news agency Tass said last night that "the program of scientific research as planned through the second Sputnik has been fulfilled completely."

Later, Moscow radio reported that Sputnik II had completed its 110th circuit of the earth, but made no mention of Laika.

Harry L. Tate Is Buried In Idaville

Funeral services for Harry L. Tate, who died at his home in Gardeners, Friday, were held at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon in the Idaville EUB Church. Rev. Percy Brown officiated and burial was in the church cemetery.

SCOUT DINNER ON WEDNESDAY

Fifty persons have signed their intention of attending the annual election dinner of the Black Walnut Boy Scout District to be held Wednesday evening at 6:15 o'clock at the Albert J. Lentz American Legion home, Sebastian Hafer, district commissioner and chairman of the dinner committee, announced today.

He added that it is hoped 100 adults will be present for the annual dinner which is held for members of the district committee and their ladies, members of the commissioner staff and their ladies, members of post, troop and pack committees and their ladies, adult post, troop and pack leaders and their ladies and Den mothers and their husbands.

A number of awards for service will be presented and the annual election of the district committee will be held.

The two men from the Black Walnut Boy Scout district who have served as president of the York-Adams Area council, Dr. W. E. Tilberg who was first president of the area council 25 years ago and Attorney Edward B. Bullett, who is the present president, will both speak briefly.

Those planning to attend the dinner are to notify Hafer by Tuesday evening.

BLOOD DONORS BEING SOUGHT

Blood donors were being sought today to replace the 13 pints that have been used so far in the attempt to save the life of Claude Simpson, operator of Elm Court Motel east of here on the Lincoln Highway.

Mr. Simpson suffered a ruptured blood vessel Friday, was removed to the Warner Hospital here in the Fire Department ambulance and Saturday afternoon was moved to the Johns Hopkins University Hospital, Baltimore, in the hospital ambulance.

At midnight Saturday, surgeons at Johns Hopkins performed an operation in which they removed the ruptured blood vessel and replaced it with nylon tube.

Since that time he has been fed intravenously and 13 pints of blood have been placed in his system with possibly more needed later.

The Johns Hopkins hospital has asked that the blood be replaced and arrangements are being made for donors to give blood at Harrisburg to replace the supply. Persons interested in donating blood are asked to call Mrs. Wayne Cluck, Gettysburg 2197-Y-2.

GIVE PROGRAM FOR CONCERT

As a souvenir of the occasion guests will be given a copy of the newly revised history of the college prepared by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. William F. Culhane, acting rector of the seminary and vice president of the college. Msgr. Culhane, who has been in charge of arrangements for the convocation, hopes to expand the present short history at a later date.

The episcopal guests of the college will represent forty-five dioceses. Mountaineer bishops have served as heads of 32 dioceses and include Cardinal John McCloskey, the first American cardinal. Bishop Gerow and Bishop James Walsh, M.M., now held under house arrest by the Chinese Communists, are the two living representatives of the college in the episcopacy.

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—All Syrian army units in the north were ordered on the alert today in a show of alarm at what an army spokesman called unusually large Turkish troop movements along the border.

Foreign Ministry sources said the Cabinet held a two-hour meeting about midnight to consider "the motives of the sudden Turkish activities."

HOLY NAME UNIT HEARS SPEAKER

Anthony Mazza, Harrisburg insurance executive, a past grand knight of the Harrisburg Knights of Columbus and president of the Harrisburg Regional Holy Name Union, was the speaker Sunday morning at the annual Communion breakfast held by the Holy Name Society of St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church at the local parochial school.

Eighty-three members attended the session at which Leo McDermitt presided.

"We do much worrying about great international events," the speaker noted, "but such events should not greatly concern us, because we cannot control them. Who among us has the slightest idea of how to build a ballistic missile. How will our worry and concern help our situation or the world's."

"But we can help our nation by doing something that all of us can do, and that is to improve our citizenship by putting into practice, in everyday life, the principles of our Catholic faith. We have been taught good moral principles. It is up to us to put them into practice. If we do, we will be better citizens of our communities and our nation. By putting our faith into practice we become better citizens; by being better citizens we can do our best toward helping solve international problems."

Rev. Fr. Anthony F. Kane, pastor of St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church, spoke briefly, praising the cooperation of the Holy Name members in activities of the church.

Joseph McKenrick, Harrisburg, a former resident here, was introduced.

"FOR VETERANS DAY"

Each Veterans Day our nation pays . . . respect to veterans who . . . did much to keep the flag of freedom . . . flying in the blue . . . in every town there are parades . . . and speeches will be made . . . to honor those who gave their lives . . . so peace will never fade . . . how wonderful it is to be . . . a part of this sweet land . . . thanks be to God for principles . . . that make our nation grand . . . God grant us faith to seek the right . . . and hope in things to be . . . so come what may, we can hold on . . . to priceless liberty . . . this is my verse for Veterans Day . . . may peace be ours to hold . . . for those who have this treasured thing . . . have riches beyond gold.

The annual Veterans Day program was presented in Redeemer's Sunday School yesterday morning, in charge of the Young Men's Class. Paul E. King, supervising principal of the Littlestown Joint School System, gave an appropriate address, Robert H. Miller presided; Atlee F. Rebert read the Scripture; Lloyd E. Baker, offered prayer; Miss Grizelda Hahn was pianist for group singing.

brina neckline and flowing panels. Her hat was in matching velvet with a pearl trimmed veil and she carried a hand crescent-shaped bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums and pompons.

In Wedding Party

The bridesmaids were Misses Charlotte and Jeanette Blackston, Keymar, Md.; Mrs. Paul Smith, Uniontown, Md., and Mrs. Russell Fogelson, Westminster. They wore ballerina gowns of turquoise chiffon over taffeta with a Sabrina neckline and flowing panels. They wore matching hats in velvet with pearl trimmed veils and carried crescent-shaped bouquets of shaded 'mums and pompons.

The best man was Hugh Yingling of Westminster and the following served as ushers: Richard Koontz, Taneytown; Paul Smith, Uniontown; William Devibiss, Uniontown, and Russell Fogelson, Westminster.

Edward Clabaugh, a brother of the bride, was ring bearer and Miss Roxane Stine, Keyville, Md., was the flower girl. She wore white nylon over crimson gown with a cummerbund and large bow. She wore matching headpiece and carried a basket of flower petals that was trimmed with 'mums.

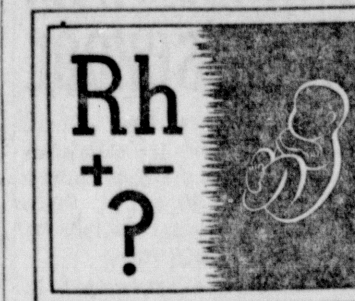

Special Music

The bride's mother wore crimson with black accessories and an orchid corsage. The mother of the bridegroom was dressed in slate blue with black accessories and an orchid corsage.

The churches decorated with white chrysanthemums and pompons, ferns, palms and candelabra. Mrs. Arthur Clabaugh, Detour, Md., a cousin of the bride, gave an organ recital before the ceremony.

Hospital Fact

The Rhesus monkey hails from India. Some Adams County babies are alive today because studies of monkey blood disclosed an "Rh factor" which one human being in seven lacks.

Sometimes an Rh negative mother becomes sensitized to Rh positive blood so that antibodies are formed which attack the infant's red blood cells. Transfusions are used in the fight to save the newborn life.

At Warner and other hospitals today, blood is typed for the Rh factor with serum to make sure that no patient who is Rh negative is given Rh positive blood.

Lewis Erb, Westminster, was the soloist. He sang "I Love You Truly," "Because," "O Promise Me" and "The Lord's Prayer." The traditional wedding marches were used.

Reception For 350

Immediately following the ceremony there was a reception for 350 guests in the social room of the church. Afterwards the couple left on a two-week wedding trip to Florida. The bride's going-away outfit was a black sheath dress trimmed with white satin with a matching hat and gloves and the white orchid from her Bible. Upon their return they will reside at 19

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and
The Gettysburg Times

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

The Commissioners have re-appointed J. M. Walter, Clerk; E. B. Buehler, Council, and M. Rupp, Keeper of the Court-House.

The Rev. Mr. Hill, Pastor Of St. James Church in this place, has accepted the call to the Pastorship of the Lutheran Church at Hagers-town, and will remove shortly.

Going Up: Several large warehouses are going up at Littlestown—one for the Railroad Company—another for Shorb & Myers, and another for Klinefelter & Co. A number of handsome dwellings are also being erected in that pleasant town.

The warehouses of the Messrs. Small at New Oxford is well on the way and will be completed by the time the track layers reach it—say, in a few weeks.

Mr. John Hoke is making preparations for the erection in the spring of a warehouse at the corner of Carlisle and Railroad Streets, in this place. It is intended for the grain and produce business—as are those noticed above.

The Gettysburg Railroad Company is about locating a water station on the premises of Col. D. M. Myers, below Red Hill, for which the pipes are now being laid down.

Young Men's Christian Association: A meeting of the young men of the Borough and vicinity was held in the lecture room of St. James Church on the last Saturday evening for the purpose of organizing a Young Men's Christian Association.

On motion, Rev. Hill was called to the chair and R. A. Lytle appointed secretary. The meeting was then opened with prayer by Wm. B. Meals.

The following resolution was taken up and after some discussion unanimously adopted:

Resolved that we form into a "Young Men's Christian Association."

On motion, Messrs. Meals, Lytle and H. Baugher were appointed to draft a constitution and bylaws.

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
Local Items: A re-union of Pennsylvania College alumni was held in Frederick on Thursday. Among the persons participating were President Valentine and Prof. Bickle of this place. Dr. Valentine addressed a large audience at night.

The proposition to convert York into a city municipal government was carried by a decided majority, largely by the work of young men. Many property holders voted against because of the increased expense.

H. G. Minter, Waynesboro, take charge of the Keystone Hotel in this place December 1.

John A. Gardner, of near Idaville, will go to Oregon in the Spring to engage in the stock business.

Improvements: John W. Gelvin, Huntingtown, has built a large shed for the protection of his separators, engines, etc.

William T. Brandon, same township, has built a commodious poultry building.

Sales: Adam Deardorff has purchased the farm of his father, John Deardorff, in Franklin township, 261 acres, at $10,000.

The farm of James R. Gardner, Latimore township has been purchased by Mr. Myers—100 acres at $40 per acre.

Benjamin Shetter has sold his property in Huntingtown Township, 30 acres, to Pius Rickrode at $1,600.

Fairfield Items: Mrs. Sarah M. Marshall, who has been away on a visit for some time, has returned again.

Farmers have had a good season, wheat and corn both being a large crop; the only complaint, the price of wheat is lower than the cost of raising it.

Persons should be careful about dropping remarks, they may be picked up.

There was a Salt River excursion here on Saturday evening last but as the trip had not been made by the Republicans for so long a time they could hardly find the way.

Today's Talk

ONLY AS WE SERVE

Only as we serve are we important. Many look upon others as important only if they have money, or are from a famous family, or are in the public eye, courted by the envious.

There are those who think themselves as important but importance is born, not in the mind but in the heart. It is what we do that makes us important, no matter what our work may be, so long as it is useful and influential. From my office window I look out upon a great group of buildings, in many respects beautifully fashioned. These structures called upon the skill and intelligence of thousands of workers, the humblest being important.

Go into any great factory or business and note the men and women busy at work. They know in their hearts that they are important but don't advertise the fact. It is enough to feel that they are doing something that is worthwhile. If our heart is in our work we need have no fear as to our importance or as to our future happiness.

I have just finished reading a remarkable autobiography by Bernard Baruch. He had the genius to make money, but after he had accumulated more than a million dollars, he came to the conclusion that money alone did not satisfy. Inspired by the example of his father who was one of the outstanding physicians of his time, Baruch decided to devote the rest of his life to useful causes. He is still at it, giving of his money and strength to endless worldwide enterprises, the friend of the poor and the great.

Many a President of the United States has sought the advice and counsel of Bernard Baruch, and for half a century he has devoted his money, time, and genius to the great problems of humanity and to things that money could not buy. This, he wrote, had given to him the satisfaction he sought.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Never Stop Wondering."

Just Folks

HARD

When a friend is torn with sorrow
And the tears are in his eyes,
Ain't it hard to tell your feelin',
Ain't it hard to sympathize?Don't you feel somehow like cryin',
Ain't your heart just bustin' quite
With the words that you would tell him?
But, somehow they don't sound right.You would like to hug him to you
And just tell him how you feel;
If somehow you could impress him
With the thought your grief was real.But you stand an' hear him sigh'n'
An' you merely drop your eyes;
Though you feel for him, my brother,
Ain't it hard to sympathize?

U. S. AIR FORCE FIRES BOMARC

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A rocket believed to be the U. S. Air Force Bomarc, a long-range anti-aircraft missile, was fired from this top-secret missile base Friday.

A morning fog hung over the area and watching newsmen got only a brief glimpse of the rocket. In an earlier test of a Bomarc, the Air Force announced that the ramjet-powered, supersonic missile climbed more than 60,000 feet, hunted down and destroyed a drone bomber more than 100 miles away.

There have been reports that the Atlas and the Navaho, both intercontinental ballistic missiles, are being readied for test firings here.

A Navaho was hoisted onto a launching pad Thursday night and was clearly visible in a searchlight beam from several miles away. A shooting appeared imminent when boats were cleared out of the area.

Later, the searchlight went out Friday morning, the Navaho was gone.

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—Police said a youth driving at high speed struck and killed two men yesterday as they crossed a street.

The victims were hurled more than 100 feet.

They were Edward Witman Jr., 26, and Peter Moskwa, 36, both of nearby Olyphant.

The driver, Arthur Staton, 17, of Scranton, was charged with involuntary manslaughter.

NATIVITY SCENE IS BANNED FROM CHICAGO SCHOOL

CHICAGO (AP)—A high school principal, under fire by organizations favoring separation of church and state, said Saturday there will be no spiritual decorations at the school this Christmas.

In previous years Principal J. Trimble Boyd of Lake View High School had permitted students to erect a Nativity scene in front of the institution.

"This year, there'll only be a Christmas tree and possibly some wreaths," Boyd told a reporter.

He said the decision was made a couple of months ago after he consulted with his superiors in the Chicago school system. In recent days, other school officials said they received protests from six Jewish organizations and from the Illinois division of the American Civil Liberties Union.

Protest From ACLU

In addition to the Nativity scene at Christmas—which had been erected by art students each of the last 30 years—Boyd had permitted erection of Jewish menorah (candelabra) symbolizing the Hanukkah holiday during that period.

In a letter to Supt. of Schools Benjamin Willis, the executive director of the Illinois ACLU, Kenneth Douy, said his organization contends the Nativity scene and the menorah violate the doctrine of separation of church and state.

Spokesmen for the protesting Jewish group could not be reached immediately for comment.

OPEN 9TH CIGAR FACTORY TODAY

BERWICK, Pa. (AP)—The Consolidated Cigar Co. formally opened its ninth cigar factory today in this central Pennsylvania city.

The company spent 2½ million dollars to convert and modernize an old textile plant.

Production, with a staff of 400, mostly women, is expected to begin by the end of the year.

The company will benefit from a city plan to attract new industry which allows a 10-year exemption on local real estate taxes. Consolidated will be the third largest industry here in number of employees.

The dedication ceremonies included a parade and a luncheon given by Berwick civic groups.

DIES IN CRASH

BERWICK, Pa. (AP)—Two-year-old Alice Ritter of Berwick died Saturday of injuries suffered in a two-car collision near here Friday.

The child's mother, Mrs. Anne Ritter, and Clarence Garrison and Orville Doty, the two drivers, both of Berwick, were injured.

Stepped-Up Satellite-Missile Program To Cost 1, 2 Billions

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Bridges (R-NH) Friday put a cost of an accelerated satellite-missile program at an extra one or two billion dollars a year. He made the estimate at the White House after a conference with President Eisenhower.

Bridges told newsmen he believes Congress will appropriate whatever is necessary.

The senator, senior Republican on the Senate Appropriations Committee, said he doesn't know, but is hopeful, the extra cost can be fitted into a 70-billion-dollar spending budget for the next fiscal year starting July 1. He said that would mean cutting down on other expenditures outside defense.

Want Security

Asked whether prospects of a tax cut now have been wiped out, Bridges said they certainly are more dubious. He said he thinks the people want to see the country secure more than they want a tax reduction.

Bridges, who also is chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, had breakfast with President Eisenhower.

"The President went over some of his plans for accelerating the satellite and missile programs," Bridges said. "I was particularly gratified at his speech last night, which outlined the appointment of a coordinator."

Bridges said Eisenhower told him that the coordinator, James R. Killian, president of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, will come to Washington and take over at once.

Will Support Program

As for a forthcoming Senate inquiry into the whole missile and satellite program, Bridges said Eisenhower is definitely interested and feels "perhaps it would be a helpful thing."

Although he is one of the more economy-minded members of Congress, Bridges said, he will accede to the extra missile expenditures and support them.

Bridges said he thinks naming a coordinator will result in cutting out waste and will "put new spirit into the whole program."

Bridges said he is concerned rather than worried over the program but that "if we now have shaken off our complacency and people in government are revitalizing their stand, we'll move forward."

Bridges said he still is hopeful the total budget may show some decrease, but he didn't say specifically where he thinks cuts might be made.

Runaway Barge Smashes Trestle

OGDEN, Utah (AP)—A runaway steel barge, loaded with tons of rock, rammed a 60-foot hole through the historic Lucin Cutoff railroad trestle yesterday after breaking loose from its tug.

A cattle train headed west out of Ogden was halted before it reached the break, 30 miles west of here.

The cutoff, a 12-mile wooden trestle, carries the mainline Southern Pacific tracks across the Great Salt Lake.

Train crews hoped to have the cutoff back in service by tomorrow. Trains were being detoured around the lake in the meantime.

Woman In Church Shot Accidentally

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A woman sitting in church was accidentally shot in the head last night.

Police said Mrs. Lula Glenn, 50, was wounded critically when Tommy Tophia, 36, discharged a pistol during an argument across the street from the church.

The bullet passed through the church's open door. Tophia was booked on suspicion of attempted murder.

SENTENCE FIVE NEGROES FOR ATTACK ON GIRL

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Five young Negro men were convicted Friday night of assaulting and beating a teen-age white girl in a south Philadelphia schoolyard. A sixth Negro youth had pleaded guilty at the outset of the trial.

The defendants drew sentences up to 15 years.

The girl, Katherine Heckart, now 18, testified the six forced her into the schoolyard the night of Sept. 18. She said they beat her and held her while she was attacked. She escaped after a 16-year-old white youth went to her aid when he heard screams.

Deliberated Three Hours

The jury of nine women and three men deliberated about three hours.

Those convicted and their sentences were:

Leroy Kelly, 22, and Ivy Lee Crossland, 23, 7½ to 15 years.

Joseph Crossland, 20, and his brother, Robert, 19, cousins of Ivy Lee Crossland, and Donald Johnson, 17, 6½ to 15 years.

Roddy Miller, 17, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to 5 to 15 years. All the sentences will be served in Eastern State Penitentiary.

U. S. Submarine Is On Longest Voyage

HONOLULU (AP)—The Gudgeon, flagship of the U.S. Navy's Pacific submarine force, is on a voyage that will make it the first U.S. submarine to travel around the world.

The Gudgeon is en route from the Philippines to Colombo, Ceylon, where it is due Nov. 13. It started July 8 from Pearl Harbor and went to Yokosuka, Japan, and then to the Philippines.

The sub's 23,411-mile voyage should take 80 days, the Navy said.

Margaret Truman Won't Cross Line

BURBANK, Calif. (AP)—Margaret Truman, here for TV rehearsals, ran into a picket line her first day on the job at the NBC.

Miss Truman, the wife of New York newspaperman Clifton Daniel, refused to cross the lines. Instead, she was driven unnoticed through a rear gate.

"I was most emphatic," she said later, "about not wanting to go through the pickets."

The picket lines were set up by the Radio and Television Directors Guild in a jurisdictional dispute. Shows were not interrupted.

Miss Truman will star in "Iris," a production to be aired next Thursday. She also will appear on the Gisele MacKenzie show Nov. 23.

STATE WORKERS TO SEEK BOOST

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A union representing 20,000 state employees has passed a resolution calling for increased wages and salaries for state workers.

At the close of its four-day annual convention on Saturday the Pennsylvania Council of Public Employees said pay increases are needed "to bring public workers up to a parity with those employed in private industry."

The resolution did not specify the amount of increase that would be acceptable. Earlier, however, the union had asked for a minimum starting rate of $1.25 an hour for state workers and an across-the-board hike of $600 a year for experienced workers "as an interim increase pending a general overall study designed to place the commonwealth on a realistic basis."

Christ A. Pope of Uniontown was re-elected president of the council, Ralph F. Emery, Philadelphia, was chosen vice president; Francis L. Bollman, Reading, secretary, and David Henderson, Harrisburg, treasurer.

DR. KILLIAN IS GOING TO FACE DIFFICULT TASK

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dr. James R. Killian is moving from cloistered university life into one of the sharpest controversies and some of the knottiest problems Washington has seen in many a year.

Sitting on the right hand of President Eisenhower as "special assistant to the President for science and technology," the 53-year-old head of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology will find he also is concerned, directly or indirectly, with such matters as these:

1. Clamoring criticism from people in and out of Congress who demand to know (a) why we are supposedly behind Russia in the missile weapon field; (b) why Russia is ahead in the satellite launching business; (c) what is going to be done about it.

Other Problems

2. Money—should more be spent for military scientific projects?

3. The rivalry of the individual armed forces in weaponry, which Eisenhower calls "alleged interservice competition."

Killian is no stranger to Washington activities, having served on an Army science advisory panel in 1951 and on a number of national foundation and scholarship boards.

He comes to Washington calmly. But he said in a statement at Cambridge, Mass., Thursday night that "I shall move as rapidly as possible to marshal the best scientific and engineering judgment and creative talent in the United States and to make it available to the President for the formulation of national policy which involves science and technology."

Killian said, too, that "a very strong scientific advisory group is an essential part of the plan, and the recruiting of this group will proceed with the utmost dispatch."

Carlisle Downs Warriors 28-3 On Last Half Surge; Little Boots Field Goal

A 25-yard field goal by Earl Little in the first quarter stood up for two periods for Gettysburg High School here Saturday night but Carlisle's hard-running attack was good for two touchdowns each in the final two periods as the Thundering Herd took a 28-3 decision on a cold, wind-swept field before approximately 1,500 fans, more than half of whom were from Carlisle.

The field goal was the first by a Gettysburg player since Bob Fortenbaugh booted one to defeat Shippenburg 3-0 here back on October 7, 1939.

After the ball changed hands twice in the opening period the Warriors, led by the passing and option runs of Little, drove to the Carlisle 15 where the Herd braced. On the last 25 yard Little dropped back to his 25 and split the uprights on a perfect angle placement boot, the ball carrying a total of 35 yards. Several penalties gave the Warriors a lift in the advance.

Carlisle Player Ejected
Play waxed hot throughout the second quarter when neither team could muster enough power for a serious scoring threat. Leo Beam, star Carlisle back, was ejected from the game during the period.

It took just two plays for the first Carlisle score in the second half. The Gettysburg kickoff was short was for Carlisle pouncing on the ball on its 44. On the first play, Elmer Hodge, who stole the spotlight for the visitors, broke around left end behind some excellent blocking and then cut back toward middle to scamper 56 yards. Gary Knaub booted the first of his four extra points.

Interception Hurts
Ben Jones' outfit came storming back after receiving the ensuing kickoff for its last scoring threat. Little connected on passes to Kenny Keefe and Gary Maitland while Bob Purney and Rex Baltzley, as well as Little, added yardage on running as the Warriors marched to Carlisle's 10. Two plays later Harry Julius intercepted a Little pass in the end zone which gave the Herd possession out on its 20 and from there the Green and White roared deep into Gettysburg territory.

Carlisle, famous for its running attack, got rolling immediately on a 16-yarder by Larry Douglas another, for 25 by Hodge, and a 30-yarder by Charley Marks which carried to the Gettysburg 1. The Warriors got a brief reprieve by recovering a fumble. Little booted Gettysburg out of a hole to the Gettysburg 35 but a short time later Bill Smallwood capped a drive by smashing over from the 5.

Early in the final period Carlisle scored again when Marks got away on a long run.

Hodge Scores Again
The Warriors rallied briefly after taking the kickoff but were soon forced to punt. Carlisle taking over on its 20. A 60-yard run by Marks highlighted the Herd drive which culminated when Hodge scampered over from the 20.

Gettysburg, now 3-4 overall, takes on Hanover, unbeaten conference leaders, at Hanover Friday night. Already the high school student body is planning for a big bonfire rally at the high school Thursday evening.

Carlisle now sports an overall season record of 6-1 and is 4-0 in the South Penn circuit.

STEELERS ARE SHUT OUT BY BROWNS 24-0

By MIKE RATHET

Otto Graham? Who's he? The Cleveland Browns, who bristled with an aura of invincibility while Uncle Otto was looting TD passes, were supposed to turn into the National Football League's paties when he made his second "retirement" permanent at the close of the 1955 season.

But Coach Paul Brown went the prognosticators one better and installed the veteran George Ratterman at the helm. He filled in ably until a knee injury signaled an end to his career.

O'Connell Answered
A dejected Brown put out a call for available talent and Tommy O'Connell, former Illinois great, answered it.

It's been O'Connell in the quarterback slot since late 1956 and he's beginning to make them forget the fabulous Graham.

O'Connell tossed two touchdown passes yesterday as the Browns maintained their hold on the Eastern Division lead with a 24-0 victory over Pittsburgh's Steelers.

This, coupled with San Francisco's 37-24 loss to the Los Angeles Rams, left the Browns with the best mark in the league, 6-1.

Despite their loss, the '49ers continued to pace the Western Conference with a 5-2 record, one hop ahead of Baltimore and Detroit at 4-3.

The Colts remained in contention with a 21-17 victory over Washington and the Lions dropped Philadelphia 27-16. In the East, Giants 5-2 stayed right behind the Browns by defeating Chicago's Cardinals, 27-14.

In the other game on the full program, Chicago's Bears beat Green Bay, 21-14.

Scott, Little Picked As Top GHS Players

Dick Scott, tackle, and Earl Little, quarterback, were named as the outstanding football players in the game here with Carlisle Saturday evening.

Scott, an improving player, put up a fine game on the line while Little, probably the best quarterback in the South Penn Conference, turned in his usual steady performance and accounted for the Warriors' only points via a 25-yard field goal.

Each will receive certificates for their work which are awarded each week by the Gettysburg Junior Chamber of Commerce.

TOP 5 TEAMS TO FACE TOUGH GRID BATTLES

JOHNSTOWN, Pa.—This is an important week for the top five Class A contenders in the Western Pennsylvania Scholastic Football Conference.

Positions of the five in the standings were unaffected by last week's action. Lewistown is in first place 490 rating points followed by Hollidaysburg (486), Indiana (475), Punxsutawney (470) and Somerset (456).

Lewistown, idle in conference play over the weekend, can increase its point rating with a victory over a strong Huntingdon team. Rating points are based on win-loss records and caliber of opposition.

Hollidaysburg, 35-0 winner over Bellwood - Antis, cannot increase its point spread by defeating Tyrone. However, it can lose points by being defeated.

Punxsutawney has two games on schedule. Tonight it plays DuBois and on Saturday it meets Indiana in a game postponed earlier because of flu. Two victories by Punxsutawney could increase its point total to 500 or more.

Somerset's chances for the title are dim since the other four contenders would be defeated. Last week Indiana defeated Windber 14-6 and Somerset whipped Conemaugh 41-0. Punxsutawney was idle in conference play.

Richland Twp., with an 8-0 record and 480 points, is assured the Class B championship if it doesn't play any more games. Richland earlier had to postpone a game with Shade. If the game is played and Richland loses it may lose the title.

Still holding a slight chance to take the Class B title are Beaverdale - Wilmore with 454 points and Williamsburg with 430 points.

Next Wednesday's Game
Final
Littlestown at Susquehannock, 8 p.m.

A hard-fighting Littlestown High School football team knocked Biglerville from the ranks of the unbeaten by taking a 20-19 decision before a large crowd at Littlestown Saturday evening and thereby became the favorite to capture the Laurel League title, now held by the Cannons.

Littlestown has a makeup game at Susquehannock Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock and can clinch the title with a victory. A victory for Susquehannock would mean a deadlock for the championship between Biglerville and Susquehannock.

A pair of opening period touchdowns gave the Thunderbolts a lead they never lost in handing the Cannons their first loss over a span of 15 games during the 1956 and 1957 campaigns.

Hollinger Blocks Kick
Midway in the first period the first break of the game came when Kenneth Hollinger, Bolt tackle, broke through to block a Biglerville punt on the Cannons' 15. Ronnie Crouse drove to the six and Bobby Nester carried to the one from where he went over on the next try. The try for the point failed.

Biglerville took the ensuing kickoff and, after a Dick Byers to Parker Coble pass was good for a first down on the 39, another aerial was intercepted by Ron Crouse on the Littlestown 36. Crouse and Nester sparked a drive to the Cannon 20. Biglerville suffered a 15-yard penalty at that point to put the ball on the 37-24 loss to the Los Angeles Rams, left the Browns with the best mark in the league, 6-1.

Neither team offered a serious threat in the scoreless second period.
Jacoby Goes Over
The Cannons manufactured their first score in the third period. After taking over on their own 36 via a punt, the upper countians went 64 yards for a score. John Harmon ran 25 to the Bolts 39. Kermit Jacoby picked up 24 yards on three carries to the 15 and followed with a touchdown run from that spot. Harmon was stopped when he tried to run for the point.

Littlestown returned the kickoff to the 30 and advanced to the 44 as the period ended.

On the first play of the last quarter Crouse, on a double-reverse, galloped 56 yards for a score. Crouse put his team ahead 20-6 on his placement for the point.

The Cannons came right back on a drive from their 33 for their second touchdown. Jacoby and Harmon bore the brunt of the ball-toting, Harmon finally going over from the 10. Jacoby was stopped in his dash for the point as Littlestown led 20-12.

Late in the final period Biglerville took over on its own 20 and went 80 yards for a score. After Jacoby, a top carrier all evening, carried to the 40 on several tries, Dick Byers and Dick Hartzell combined on a pretty 60-yard pass play. Another pass by the same combination produced the point.

Four plays after the following kickoff the game ended with Littlestown on its 40.

Canner Final
The game was the final of the campaign for Biglerville who compiled an enviable 6-1-2 record. The Bolts, still with the all-important game at Susquehannock, are 5-2-1.

Lumley And Bisons Shut Out Cleveland

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Veteran goalie Harry Lumley of the Buffalo Bisons turned back the hands of time in flashing his old form against the Cleveland Barons last night.

The 31-year-old net-minder posted a 3-0 shutout—his first of the season—as Buffalo moved into a fourth-place tie with Cleveland in the American Hockey League.

In other games, league-leading Hershey tied Springfield 4-4 and Providence and Rochester played a 2-2 deadlock. Both were overtime games.

Springfield and Hershey scored their eight goals in the first two periods and then couldn't find the target in the third and overtime stanzas.

Favor Rose Royale At Laurel Today

LAUREL, Md. (P)—Eight horses from five countries meet today on the grass course at Laurel Park in the $100,000 Washington, D. C., International, a snooty by-invitation-only affair that finds France's Rose Royale and Virginia's Third Brother the top choices to grab first money of $70,000.

This is the sixth running of the now world famous International, and there is just as much confusion over the elite field as in other years when several long shots romped home to confound the predictions of the turf experts.

Again, however, the nod goes to Rose Royale, a 3-year-old filly owned by Prince Aly Kahn, and Christopher T. Cheney's Third Brother. Rose Royale was listed as the 5-2 early choice, with Third Brother at 3-1 but both could be co-favorites at post time judging from past Internationals.

Yost Goes Over
Yost added his second touchdown in 8:10 of the third quarter as he went over from the seven. The play came after a poor Scranton punt went out of bounds on the Scranton 32. After Scranton was penalized five, Capitani bolted through center for 20 to set up the scoring play.

A 47-yard advance in two plays by Capitani gave the Bullets their sixth touchdown in 6:55 of the fourth quarter, the scoring play covering 47 yards.

Capitani Sparks Bullets To 39-0 Win At Scranton; Gets 3 TDS And 141 Yards

Gettysburg College's powerful football team added Scranton as its sixth victory, 39-0, in a one-sided game Saturday night before a handful of spectators at Scranton in freezing weather.

Frank Capitani gave a fine offensive show as he raced for 141 yards in 15 carries and three touchdowns. Earl Yost, who looks better offensively in every game, picked up 73 yards in eight carries and added two touchdowns.

Coach Eugene Haas was forced to juggle his starting lineup as Arlo Olsen, a center converted to an end this year, became ill before the game and wasn't in uniform. Quarterback Dick Stravolo and end Chet Knight didn't suit up as both had injuries which prevented them from playing.

The Gettysburg offense rolled up a total of 397 while limiting the opposition to 65. The Bullets never permitted Scranton inside their 45.

Gettysburg's attack stalled at the beginning of the game and it wasn't until 13:00 of the first quarter that Capitani bolted through right tackle for the initial touchdown. The score climaxed a seven-play 52-yard drive featured by the running of Capitani and Yost. A screen pass from Hickoff to George Greiner ate up 15 yards of the advance. Binger added the extra point.

Early in the second quarter, Scranton's Dwornikoski, one of the outstanding small college punters in the country, punted dead on the Scranton 35. After one pass had failed and another to Davidyock had gained to the 30, Yost dashed around left end and, behind beautiful blocking, went the whole way. Davidyock tossed the key block at the 18.

Capitani's two yard plunge in 12:30 of the second quarter climaxed a ten-play 80-yard drive. Hickoff's pass to Greiner, good for 35 yards, was the big advance.

Home For Final Games

The Bullets are at home for their final two games of the season, playing host to Temple University on Saturday and concluding their schedule with Franklin and Marshall the following Saturday. Two wins would give Coach Gene Haas in his first season as head coach an identical with Coach John Yovic's 1953 aggregation, the best record in Gettysburg grid history.

37 Sons Of Mt. St. Mary's Rose To Episcopal Rank; One Became Cardinal

They Founded More Than 60 Colleges And Seminaries In U.S.; Built Many Hospitals

By DR. JOHN J. DILLON JR.

Graduates of Mount St. Mary's had a profound influence on the Catholic Church in America during its constructive period in the 19th century. Thirty-eight of her sons, including four of her presidents, rose to episcopal rank; seven filled Metropolitan Sees; one became the first American Cardinal.

For almost a century Mountaineers ruled the great dioceses of the Catholic Church: New York in the east, Cincinnati in the west, Mobile in the south. They sat in the Vatican and Plenary Councils. They established more than 30 colleges and a like number of seminaries. They founded churches, built cathedrals, established hospitals and were the champions of education and charity.

Were Active Patriots

Great and active patriots, they won esteem and prestige for the Catholic Church among all classes of American society. Currently two Mountaineers continue the influence of the past, Bishop Richard Gerow of Natchez, and Bishop James E. Walsh of Maryknoll whose defiance of the Chinese Reds is a matter of record and which caused him untold hardship in his chosen area of labor.

A brief biographical sketch on each man follows:

Edward P. Allen

Edward P. Allen of Lowell Mass. attended both Mt. St. Mary's College and the Seminary. He was ordained in 1881 and became immediately a member of the faculty at his Alma Mater. Between 1882-84 he was engaged in pastoral work in Boston. In 1884 he became the 13th president of Mt. St. Mary's a position which he resigned in 1897 upon his appointment to the see of Mobile where he was especially interested in the care of Negroes. He died in 1926.

Thomas A. Becker

Thomas A. Becker, of Pittsburgh, was received into the Church in 1853 and educated at the Urban College of the Propaganda, Rome. He was ordained in 1859 and became a member of the Mt. St. Mary's faculty until he was named secretary to archbishop Spalding of Baltimore. He was named to the new diocese of Wilmington following pastoral work in the Richmond diocese. In 1886 he was transferred to the see of Savannah. Becker was particularly interested in temperance, was a great linguist, and contributed to many periodicals and reviews. One of the secretaries of the Third Plenary Council of Baltimore, he died in 1899.

John J. Boylan

The late bishop of Rockford, Ill., the Most Reverend John J. Boylan, was born in New York City in 1859. He was educated at Mount St. Mary's College and St. Bernard's Seminary, Rochester, N. Y. He attended also the Catholic University of America, Harvard University and the Pontifical University in Rome from which he received his Ph.D. He was president of Dowling College from 1922-43 and was made a domestic prelate in 1933. He was consecrated bishop of Rockford in 1943 and died during the summer of 1953.

Simon Brute

Simon Gabriel Brute, the angel of the Mountain, was born in Rennes, France, in 1779 and educated at the Medical College of Dr. Duval, the Medical School of Paris where he took his doctorate in medicine in 1803, and the Seminary of St. Sulpice. Ordained in 1808, he declined the posts of assistant chaplain to Napoleon and a canon in the Cathedral of Rennes. Joining the Sulpicians after his ordination, he became successively a faculty member at St. Sulpice, and after his voyage to the U. S., a teacher at St. Mary's Seminary, Baltimore. In 1812 he came to Mount St. Mary's to help DuBois and was named rector of the Seminary in 1815. He was also spiritual director of the Sisters of Charity from 1818-1834 at which time he was named to the newly erected See of Vincennes, Ind. There he founded and taught in the Seminary of St. Charles and St. Gabriel's College. A missionary bishop as well as a scholar, Brute also acted as both priest and physician for his people. He died in 1839.

Aloysius Carrell

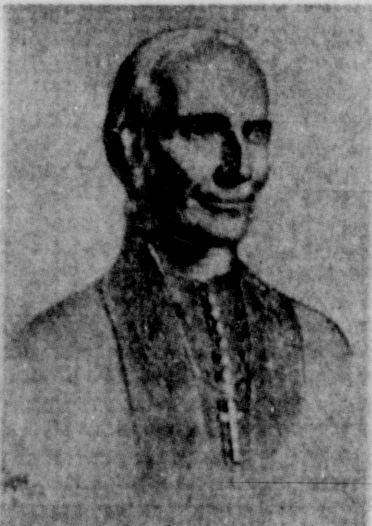

George A. Carroll, S. J., born and reared in Philadelphia, attended both the College and the Seminary. He then entered the Jesuit Novitiate and was ordained in 1827. After pastoral work in Philadelphia and duty at the Novitiate he became a member of the faculty of St. Louis University in 1863. Between 1845 and '53 he served as president of the Purcell Mansion for Boys in Cincinnati, resigning to become bishop of Covington in 1853. He died in 1868.

Francis S. Chatard

Francis S. Chatard, another Baltimore born Mountaineer, also completed his studies at the Urban College and was ordained in Rome

JOHN DuBOIS
New York

SIMON BRUTE
Vincennes

In 1862. He was immediately appointed vice-rector of the newly founded North American College and in 1868 began a ten year tenure as its rector. In 1878 he was named bishop of Vincennes, Ind., which later became the diocese of Indianapolis. He died in 1918.

John J. Collins, S.J.

Kentucky born John J. Collins, S. J., was educated first at Mount St. Mary's of the West and then at its Emmitsburg counterpart. Entering the Society of Jesus he was ordained in 1891 and successively engaged in teaching at Fordham, Holy Cross, and the College of St. Francis Xavier. In 1894 he began missionary work in Jamaica B. W. I. In 1904 he became president of Fordham University, where he served until his appointment as vicar apostolic of Jamaica until his resignation in 1919. He died in New York in 1934.

John J. Conroy

John J. Conroy was born in Ireland and educated first at the Sulpician College in Montreal and then at Mount St. Mary's. Ordained in New York in 1842, he served successively as vice-president and president of Fordham College. Later he engaged in pastoral work and became administrator of New York until his appointment as bishop of Albany in 1865. Conroy resigned his see in 1877 and was appointed to the titular see of Curium in 1878. He died in New York in 1895.

Michael A. Corrigan

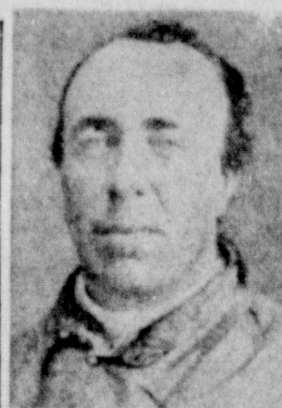

Michael A. Corrigan was born in Newark, N. J. and attended both Mt. St. Mary's and the North American College where he was one of the first students. Ordained in 1863, he became a faculty member at Seton Hall College and later its president in 1868. At the same time he was named vicar general of the diocese of Newark and in 1873 became its bishop. He was particularly interested in delinquents and in the care of Catholics in penal and charitable institutions. In 1880 Corrigan was made coadjutor archbishop in New York. He was instrumental in saving the American College from confiscation at the hands of the Italian government through his negotiations with President McArthur and Secretary of State Frelinghaus. In 1886 he succeeded Cardinal McCloskey as archbishop. He died in 1902 and thus ended a period of almost 100 years during which Mountaineer prelates had presided over the New York See.

Thomas F. Doran

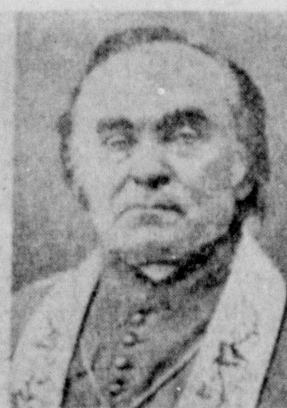

Thomas F. Doran, a native of Rhode Island, attended both the College and the Seminary from which he was ordained in 1880. Engaged in pastoral work in Providence he became vicar general in 1894, a domestic prelate in 1905, and auxiliary bishop of Providence in 1915, the year before his death.

John DuBois

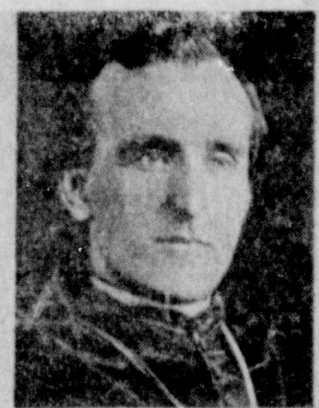

John DuBois, the founder of Mount St. Mary's College, was born in Paris in 1764. He was educated at College Louis-le-Grand, the Seminary of St. Magloire, and the Sorbonne. Ordained in 1787, he first did pastoral work in Paris until he came to the United States in 1791. After missionary duties in Virginia and Maryland, he founded Mt. St. Mary's in 1803 and in 1809 became also director of Mother Seton's Sisters of Charity. He continued as president of Mt. St.

Mary's until his appointment to the See of New York in 1826. There he began the diocesan seminaries, vigorously opposed trusteeship, and died exhausted by his labors in 1842.

William H. Elder

William H. Elder, a native of Baltimore, attended Mt. St. Mary's College and Seminary, then the Urban College in Rome, and was ordained in 1846. After teaching at the College and the Seminary between 1846-57, he was named Bishop of Natchez on Jan. 8, 1857. He won great fame for his ministrations during the Civil War and the yellow fever epidemic in 1878. He was also widely acclaimed by his people for his independence during the Civil War and was ordered imprisoned by a court martial when he refused to order public prayers for the Union and Lincoln. The sentence was overthrown on review and Elder asserted that he would gladly pray for the Union and the President but not on bayonet orders. Refusing the see of San Francisco he was named coadjutor bishop in Cincinnati and succeeded Purcell as archbishop in 1883. Having restored the shaky finances of the archdiocese, he died in 1904.

Edward Fitzgerald

Another Irishman, Edward Fitzgerald, came to the Emmitsburg College after beginning his studies at Mt. St. Mary's of the West. He was ordained in 1857 and began his priestly work in Cincinnati. In 1866 he was appointed to the see of Little Rock, Ark., where he labored as a missionary bishop. At the Vatican Council, 1869-70, he was one of the two prelates to vote against the declaration of papal infallibility. He was particularly interested in the foreign elements in his diocese, as well as in the spiritual welfare of the Negroes. He died in 1907.

Francis X. Gartland

Francis X. Gartland completed his education at Mount St. Mary's College and Seminary after entering the United States from his native Ireland. He was ordained in 1832 and engaged in pastoral work in Philadelphia, where he was named first bishop of the new see of Savannah. He did distinguished missionary work throughout Georgia, particularly in the yellow fever epidemic of 1854. Exhausted by his personal ministrations to the yellow fever victims, Bishop Gartland died as a result of his labors in 1854.

Richard O. Gerow

Richard O. Gerow, bishop of Natchez, Miss., was born in Mobile in 1855. After attending McGill Institute, he matriculated at Mount St. Mary's College, from which he was graduated in 1904 with highest honors. Attending the seminary he was granted his M.A. in 1906 and then completed his studies at the North American College with an S.T.D. degree in 1909. He was ordained in Rome in 1909 and became an assistant at the Mobile Cathedral until his appointment as chancellor in 1920. He was appointed to the See of Natchez in 1924. In 1949 he was named an assistant to the apostolic throne. He is the author of "Catholicity in Mississippi" and "Cradle Days of St. Mary's at Natchez."

Richard Gilmour

Scottish born Richard Gilmour was converted to Catholicism at the age of 17 and then began his education at Mount St. Mary's. Ordained in 1852, he did parish work in Cincinnati until 1872 when he became a faculty member of Mount St. Mary's of the West. In 1872 he was appointed bishop of Cleveland where he proved himself an extraordinary administrator. He founded the Catholic University in 1874, won religious freedom for inmates of penal institutions in 1875, secured the exemption of Catholic school properties from local taxation in 1883, founded St. Ignace College, and became a champion of education and charity. Prominent in the third plenary Council of Baltimore, he died in 1891.

William J. Hafey

Born in 1838 at Springfield, Mass., Bishop William J. Hafey was educated at Holy Cross College and Mount St. Mary's from which he received his M.A. in 1914, the year of his ordination. After serving as a curate in Baltimore, he was named archdiocesan chancellor in 1920 and appointed bishop of Raleigh, N. C., in 1925. He was appointed coadjutor bishop and apostolic administrator of the Scranton diocese in 1937, succeeding to the See in 1938. Bishop Hafey has been responsible for the reorganization of St. Thomas College, now Scranton University, and the foundation of Kings College, Wilkes-Barre. He died in 1954.

Francis W. Howard

Francis W. Howard attended Mt. St. Mary's of the West in his native state of Ohio after beginning his education at Emmitsburg. Ordained in 1891 he was elected general secretary of the Catholic Educational Association in 1903 and made a domestic prelate in 1920. Three years later he was named bishop of Covington and in 1929 was appointed an assistant at the pontifical throne. He died in 1944.

John J. Hughes

John J. Hughes, Irish born but reared in Chambersburg, Pa., was one of the most impressive figures in the Catholic hierarchy during the 19th century. After completing his education at Mount St. Mary's he did pastoral work in Philadelphia and was one of the theologians of the 1st Provincial Council of Baltimore. In 1833, the year in which he founded the Catholic Herald, he was a nominee for the see of Cincinnati but the appointment went to his friend and schoolmate John Purcell. In 1836 he became coadjutor bishop of Philadelphia where he fought trusteeship until his appointment as aide to DuBois in New York. Succeeding to the New York See in 1842 he battled against trusteeship and secularization of the public schools. He was the founder of Fordham College and St. Joseph's Seminary, and was largely responsible for the founding of the North American College, Rome. He was made the first archbishop of New York in 1850. During the Civil War he acted as Lincoln's personal agent in Europe to represent the Northern cause. He died in New York in 1864 after having settled the famous New York draft riots with his deathbed intervention.

John Loughlin

John Loughlin was born in County Down, Ireland, and educated at both the College and the Seminary. Ordained in 1840, he worked in the New York diocese where he was made vicar general in 1849. In 1853 he was appointed bishop of the newly created see of Brooklyn. A member of the various Plenary Councils of Baltimore, he also attended the Vatican Council in 1869. Loughlin was the founder of St. John's College, Brooklyn in 1869. Under his administration the diocese became one of the largest and most progressive in the United States. He died in 1891.

Bernard J. Mahoney

Bernard J. Mahoney was born in Albany and attended the North American College in Rome after graduation from Mt. St. Mary's. Ordained in 1904, he became spiritual director of the North American College after five years service in the Albany diocese. In 1922 he was made bishop of Sioux Falls, S. D. He died in 1939.

Maurice F. McAuliffe

Maurice F. McAuliffe, a native of Hartford, Conn., completed his education at St. Sulpice, Paris, and St. Willibrord's Seminary, Eichstadt, Germany, after attending both the College and Seminary at Mount St. Mary's. He was appointed a faculty member at Mt. St. Mary's Seminary, Hartford, following his ordination in 1900. In 1922 he became president of the seminary at the same time filling important diocesan positions. In 1925 he was named auxiliary bishop of Hartford and succeeded to the see in 1934.

Cardinal McCloskey

John McCloskey, the first of the American Cardinals, was born in Brooklyn in 1810 and educated at both Mt. St. Mary's College and the Seminary before entering the Gregorian University in Rome. Ordained in 1834, he engaged in pastoral work, became vice-president of the Nyack Seminary in 1834, and later president of St. John's College, Fordham University. Elected to the titular see of Axiere, he was named coadjutor bishop of New York in 1843. In 1847 he was promoted to the newly erected see of Albany and in 1864 to the metropolitan see of New York. In 1875 he became the first American Cardinal and received the red biretta on April 27, 1875. He died in New York in 1888.

William G. McCloskey

William G. McCloskey, Brooklyn born and Mt. St. Mary's educated, was ordained in 1852. After pastoral work in New York, he became a member of the faculty of the Seminary in 1853 and was named its rector in 1859. He left Mount St. Mary's to become the first rector of the North American College in Rome in 1859. In 1868 he was appointed to the see of Louisville, where he founded Preston Park Seminary. He died in 1909.

Francis P. McFarland

Francis P. Farland was born in nearby Chambersburg, and after attending both the College and the Seminary was ordained in 1845. First a member of the faculty at Fordham, he was then engaged in pastoral work between 1845-1858. Having declined episcopal rank and the vicariate of Florida in 1857, he was named bishop of Hartford, Conn., in 1858. He died shortly after attending the Vatican Council in 1874.

Thomas McGovern

Thomas McGovern, Irish born and educated at Mt. St. Mary's was ordained in 1861. After twenty-five years' pastoral work in the archdiocese of Philadelphia he was elected to the see of Harrisburg. He died in 1888. The May chapel at the groto is a memorial to his memory.

Henry P. Northrop

Henry P. Northrop was born in Charleston, S. C., and after attending Georgetown College entered Mt. St. Mary's. He completed his education at the North American College in Italy, was ordained in 1865 and returned to Charleston to undertake parish duty. He was appointed vicar apostolic of South Carolina in 1881 and succeeded to the see of Charleston in 1883. He continued as vicar apostolic until 1888. He died in 1916.

Michael Portier

Michael Portier, one of the controversial figures in the Mountaineer episcopal list, was born in Loire, France, and educated at the Lyons Seminary and thereafter at St. Mary's in Baltimore. It is quite certain from his correspondence, however, that he must have attended Mount St. Mary's perhaps to improve his English. Ordained in 1818 he began his pastoral work in New Orleans. In 1825 he was appointed vicar apostolic of the two Floridas, Alabama and Arkansas, and consecrated in 1826. Here he did the work of a missionary bishop until he became the first bishop of Mobile in 1829. In 1830 he founded Spring Hill College. He died in 1859 having won just fame for his episcopal labors and his personal ministrations during the yellow fever and the Asiatic plague epidemics.

John P. Purcell

John P. Purcell, one of the really great figures of the 19th century American church, was born in Ireland and educated at St. Patrick's College, Malloy, Mt. St. Mary's, and Saint Sulpice. Ordained in 1826, he returned to the Mountain as a faculty member and in 1829 became president of both the College and Seminary. In 1833 he became bishop of Cincinnati. Here he founded both St. Francis Xavier College and Mt. St. Mary's of the West. In 1850 he was made an archbishop and received the sacred pallium from Pope Pius IX in 1851. He died in 1883.

William Quarter

Born in Ireland, William Quarter began his education at St. Patrick's Seminary, Maynooth and completed it at Mt. St. Mary's where he attended both the College and Seminary. He was ordained in 1829 and for fourteen years did parish work in the New York diocese where he particularly distinguished himself during the cholera epidemics of 1832 and 1833. Ten years later he was named first bishop of Chicago. Here he founded the University of St. Mary of the Lake. He died in 1848.

John Quinlan

John Quinlan, a native of Cloyne, Ireland was ordained from Mt. St. Mary's after attending the College and Seminary. After missionary work in Cincinnati he was named rector of the College and Seminary of Mt. St. Mary's of the West. In 1859 he was appointed to the see of Mobile, where he won great fame for his heroic personal ministrations during the battle of Shiloh. He died in 1883.

Robert J. Seton

Born in Italy, Robert J. Seton was educated at Mt. St. Mary's the Urban College, the North American College, the Academia Ecclesiastica Nobili and the Roman University. He was ordained in 1865 and became a prelate chamberlain in 1866 and a prothonotary apostolic in 1867. He was afterwards engaged in pastoral work in Newark until his election to the titular archiepiscopal see of Heliopolis in 1903. He died in 1927.

John J. Spalding

A prolific writer, John Lancaster Spalding was born in Lebanon, Kentucky, where he attended St. Mary's College, Bardonia, before completing his education at Mt. St. Mary's, the North American College, Rome, and the American College, Louvain. He was ordained in 1863 and returned to Kentucky to engage in pastoral work in Louisville. He rose steadily as diocesan chancellor and secretary to Bishops Lavalie and McCloskey until he went to New York for pastoral duty in 1873. In 1876 he was appointed to the new diocese of Peoria. Interested in Catholic colonization, education, and labor, he was very active in the establishment of the Catholic University of America. In 1908 he resigned his see and was named an archbishop. He died in 1916.

James E. Walsh

The Most Reverend James Edward Walsh, M.M., was born in Cumberland, Md., in 1891. After receiving his A.B. from Mt. St. Mary's in 1910 he entered the Catholic Foreign Missionary Society and was ordained at Maryknoll in 1915. In 1918 he was assigned to missionary work in China and the next year became superior of the Maryknoll Chinese missions. In 1921 he founded the Little Flower Seminary, Kongmoon, China. He was consecrated vicar apostolic of Kongmoon in 1927, the first American to be consecrated a bishop in China. Between 1936-46 Bishop Walsh was superior general.

Science Needs Great Deal More Basic Research Funds In Opinion Of Missile Expert

Editor's note—Speaking for the first time since the Russians started shooting up satellites, a top U. S. missile expert, director of the development operations division of the Army's Redstone arsenal, answers questions in the minds of many Americans.

International Copyright 1957 By The Associated Press

How can the United States catch up with Russia's lead in the race into space?

In the opinion of Dr. Wernher von Braun, neither a project like the Manhattan, which developed the A-bomb during World War II, nor the release of great sums of money would help much at this stage.

But science could use a great deal more money in basic research and in some allied fields where there is no current need of a crash program, Dr. von Braun said in an exclusive question and answer article for The Associated Press.

Developed V2 Rocket
The scientist headed up development of the German V2 rocket which battered London during the war. In recent years, he has been in charge of Army research which has led to the Jupiter-C, designated last week to carry an American satellite into space.

Answering a question as to whether a Manhattan-type crash program would help overcome Russia's lead, Dr. von Braun said:

"In the missile field . . . we have practically all the facilities we can intelligently use. Several projects are handled by several teams, each of which is in a different geographical location. Any attempt to dislocate or combine these teams must necessarily lead to immediate interruption of the work, with resultant delays."

Cites "Crying Need"
About more money:
"I believe that, by and large, our five key ballistic missile programs (Jupiter, Thor, Polaris, Atlas and Titan) could not be speeded up appreciably by increases in funds. . . ."

"This statement does not apply to many badly neglected fringe areas of our ballistic missile and satellite programs. First and foremost, there is a crying need for more money for basic and applied research in these areas.

"Secondly, while adequate funds are available for the clearly defined missile weapons systems, there is never enough to 'advance the art.' A typical example is that we don't have a real powerful rocket engine today simply because none of our present crash missile programs needs it. But in order to beat the Russians in the race for outer space we absolutely need it—and the development of such an engine requires several years."

Things To Be Done
Dr. von Braun made it clear that if the U. S. is to overtake Russia in the satellite and missile fields, there are several things which must be done:

" . . . In the ballistic missile field the United States, about two years ago, embarked into an all-out crash program which will be difficult to substantially accelerate beyond its present pace. In the satellite field, we need a well-planned, long-range national space flight program which makes maximum use of rocket hardware (propulsion systems, guidance systems and airframes) emerging from our ballistic missile programs.

"This program must be backed up by a firm budget which permits its steady prosecution over a period of several years. Even with no holds barred, I think it would still be well over five years before we could catch up with the Soviets again, because they are not likely to idly sit by in the meantime."

Training Programs
Dr. von Braun was asked about the training programs for scientists in Russia and the United States, and said:

"I believe that the professional quality of a young American physicist or engineer, fresh from the university, is at least as high as that of his Russian counterpart. But we do not provide sufficient opportunity for these young scientists and engineers to accrue a sufficient number of consecutive years in missile development to adequately enhance their practical experience."

He said he is "convinced that the Sputniks will give Russia's science education program an additional, most powerful boost. I can only hope that it will give the United States' science education program an even greater boost, because we need such a boost badly."

Hopes For More Recognitions
"And I also hope," he said, "it will enhance the recognition of science and scientists in the eyes of the U. S. public. Unless we manage to make careers in the sciences more attractive to the young generation, we cannot hope to win the long range struggle with the Soviets for scientific and technological superiority."

Dr. von Braun pointed out that development of "a suitable heat-protecting envelope . . . for the re-entry into the atmosphere of warheads of ballistic long range missiles" has importance in future military thinking.

He explained that this envelope—President Eisenhower displayed a nose cone in a televised address Thursday night which he said had been into space and back and is still intact—makes it possible "to restore the satellite with sufficient accuracy to land within an area the size of European Russia." Then he went on:

An Important Detail
"Mastery of this recovery technique in itself does not constitute a threat to the United States. It should rather be considered as an important detail achievement within the framework of an obvious all-out effort by the Soviets to establish themselves as masters of the space around us. Herein lies the real threat to our security, and only the immediate inaction of a well-planned, determined U. S. space flight program can neutralize it."

Explaining why the U. S. trails Russia, Dr. von Braun said:

"There was no ballistic missile development program in the United States between 1945 and 1951 because there was no obvious need for it, no interest for it, and no money for it. And it will be hard to catch up now on those lost six years."

Von Braun said he thought it would be possible for the United States to launch a satellite with the military rocket power now available, but that it would be two to three years before a U. S. missile would hit the moon.

It appears, von Braun said, that the Russians have more powerful engines than we do, but that "there are some very large engines under development in the United States." Work on these larger engines, he said, has been supported on a shoestring because it was not considered part of the high-priority missile program.

John A. Watterson

A native of Bairdstown, Pa., John A. Watterson was ordained in 1868 following his attendance at Mt. St. Mary's College and Seminary. Immediately following ordination he became a faculty member at Mt. St. Mary's, and was named its president in 1877. In 1880 he was elected to the see of Columbus. He died in 1899.

Richard V. Whelan

Baltimore born Richard V. Whelan attended the Saint Sulpice Seminary in Parish after he completed Mt. St. Mary's College. He was ordained in 1831 and immediately took up pastoral duties in the Richmond diocese. In 1840 he was transferred to the newly erected see of Wheeling where he again found a college. He died in 1874.

Josue M. Young

Convert Josue M. Young was received into the church at the age of 20 in 1828. Thereafter he attended both the college and the seminary and was ordained in 1838 for pastoral and missionary work in Cincinnati. He was elected to the see of Pittsburgh in 1853 but transferred to Erie before his consecration. A great advocate of temperance, he died in 1866.

RECRUITED WINNER

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The first "Pauline Bunyan Log Cutting Contest" started shakily when it was found there were more prizes than contestants. The sponsors recruited petite Mrs. Jean Davis of Arrostock County, Maine, from the crowd to compete. When the sawdust settled, Mrs. Davis had won first prize.

2 BOYS KILLED

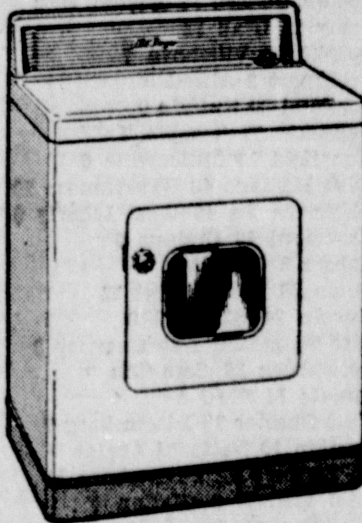

QUAKERTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Two teenage boys were killed Saturday night in the collision of a car and a fire truck which was going to a fire.

The victims were Harry School Jr., 17, of Shelly, and Harold Mease, 16, of Rosedale. They were in the car.

SCHOOL GRID LEADERS CLING TO EARLY GAINS

HARRISBURG (AP)—The state's top schoolboy football teams continue to cling to their laurels and prospects as they will go all the way with the season drawing to a close this month.

Here's the situation as it jelled over the weekend:

East—Cass Twp. of the Eastern Conference's Southern Division, which hasn't had a point scored on it in its nine games this year, posted a 13-0 win over St. Clair. That moved the township squarely into the division's rating lead.

Tamaqua, rated top of the division last week, scraped by Hazleton, 12-7, to stay high in the No. 2 spot. Shamokin, one of the division powers and a favorite to come through in the ratings in final tallies blanked Sunbury, 27-0.

Scranton Plays Tuesday
In the Northern Division, Scranton Central delayed its game with Duryea until tomorrow night. Old Forge, one of the other leaders in the division, shut out Scranton Tech, 12-0.

In the Suburban On League, Norristown got by Upper Darby, 20-13, to remain the leader of the circuit. Central-Williamsport, the 1956 champion and favorite to repeat for the crown in the Central Penn. League, knocked off Harrisburg's Penn, 19-7. Lancaster, the only other undefeated team in the circuit, trimmed Harrisburg's Harris 26-7. The two will meet Thanksgiving Day in a game that will probably decide the league title.

Carlisle downed Gettysburg, 28-3, to protect its unbeaten string in the South Penn loop.

West—The big four of the WPIAL-AA circuit all came through with victories. Three of the teams rounded out their card against scheduled league opposition, but may take on other teams in pick-up games or make-up clashes resulting from flu cancellations.

Only Clairton has a WPIAL opponent left in Latrobe.

New Kensington edged Latrobe, 14-12; Clairton blanked Connells-

JACKSON WILL FIGHT MACHEN ON WEDNESDAY

By JACK HAND

The Associated Press
Eddie Machen, unbeaten Redding, Calif. heavyweight, will test his strength against Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson of New York in a Wednesday bout at San Francisco that could be important to Machen's title hopes.

A match with heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson is Machen's goal and he hopes to improve on Patterson's showing against the Hurricane. Jackson went 12 rounds to lose a split decision to Patterson in their first match in 1956 but was stopped in 10 rounds of a title match, July 26. Machen is No. 1, Jackson, No. 5 in Ring, No. 6 in the National Boxing Assn.

WEEKEND FIGHTS
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. — Frankie Belma, 145, Wilmington, Calif., knocked out Joey Doranto, 146, Los Angeles, 8.

BUENOS AIRES—Manuel Garcia Delgado, 126, Spain, and Manuel Alvarez, 127, Argentina, drew, 10.

With 15 knockouts. In his 1957 starts, Machen has beaten Joey Maxim twice, outpointed Bob Baker and knocked out Eduardo Romero.

ABC-TV will carry the bout with a San Francisco blackout.

Fullmer Friday
Gene Fullmer returns to Madison Square Garden for the first time since he won the middleweight title from Sugar Ray Robinson to box Neal Rivers of Las Vegas, Nev. on the Friday show—NBC Radio-TV.

Of course, many things have happened to Fullmer since that January night. He lost the title when he ran into a Robinson left hook at Chicago, May 1. Robinson, in turn, lost the championship to Carmen Basilio in September.

Now Fullmer hopes to get another shot. While waiting to see if Robinson wants to go through with the Basilio rematch, he is taking other work.

Since the Robinson disaster at Chicago, the West Jordan, Utah mauler has beaten Ralph Tiger Jones and Chico Vejar.

TIME HERE TO WRAP UP BOWL BIDS FOR 1957

By ED CORRIGAN

The Associated Press
The college football season reaches its most frenzied pitch next Saturday when no fewer than four teams can wrap up bowl bids.

Texas A&M, Ohio State, Duke and Oregon could join Oklahoma, which has cemented its berth in the Orange Bowl and "relaxes" against Notre Dame before a nationwide television audience.

The Sooners, who beat Missouri 39-14 last Saturday, will be heavily favored against the Irish. Notre Dame, showing the effects of a murderous schedule, dropped a 34-6 decision to Michigan State.

How It Shapes Up
As for the bowl situation, here is how it shapes up:

Rose-Olio State is the Big Ten favorite. The Buckeyes and defending champion Iowa go at it this week, and an Ohio State victory would end it. Iowa is ineligible. Michigan State is the only other team with a chance. The Spartans have to beat Minnesota Saturday, and hope Ohio State loses its last two games.

On the other end, Oregon, despite a staggering 13-6 loss to Washington last week, still is in the most favorable position in the Pacific Coast Conference. The Ducks need only one more victory to clinch a tie for the championship and their opponent this week, Southern California, has won just one game.

Cotton Bowl
Cotton — Texas A&M, No. 1 team in the weekly Associated Press poll, has only Rice standing in its way. Rice, although it scored a 13-7 upset over Arkansas Saturday, doesn't appear ready to cope with Bear Bryant's men.

The second team in the Cotton Bowl usually is the second-place outfit in the Southeastern conference. Last year, however, Syracuse was plucked.

Sugar — The Southeastern Conference champion traditionally acts as host. But Auburn, which is rolling along in first place and undefeated, is ineligible for post-season play this year.

Sooner For Sure
If Mississippi can get by Tennessee this week, O' Miss probably will cement second place and wind up in the Sugar Bowl, with either Tennessee or Vanderbilt — which ever wins their game November 30 — going to the Cotton Bowl.

Orange — Oklahoma already has one spot taken care of. The Atlantic Coast Conference supplies the other outfit and all Duke has to do to win the title is beat Clemson this week, or — failing that — North Carolina

Identifies Two Men As His Assaultants

LANCASTER, Pa. (P)—Two confessed assaultants of a Lancaster plant foreman have been accused of beating and robbing another man.
 Dario Cruz Dupuy, 40, told police over the weekend he recognized the pair as his attackers from a newspaper photograph. He said Loya Lucas, 23, and Fred Walker, 17, were the persons who beat him and took $34 Oct. 12.
 Lucas and Walker admitted the brutal robbery and beating of Jacob H. Witmer, 52, of Bausman. Witmer is still in critical condition at Lancaster General Hospital.

SCRANTON, Pa. (P)—William Sluman, 65, of nearby Clarks Summit, was fatally injured by a car Saturday night while walking to a drugstore to get a prescription filled for his wife.
 The driver, E. J. Pensock, 27, of Paramus, N.J., was charged with involuntary manslaughter. Sluman, a clerk for a coal company, died at a hospital 2 1/2 hours after the accident.

HONOR SOLDIER DEAD AT TOMB

WASHINGTON (P)—The nation's military dead from all wars are honored today at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, where next year three unknowns from as many conflicts will lie.

Gov. Joe Foss of South Dakota is honored today at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, where next year three unknowns from as many conflicts will lie.

When next Veterans Day comes there will be three Unknown Soldiers—symbols of all the unknowns who died in two world wars and Korea. The unknowns of World War II and Korea will be placed in crypts at the tomb on Memorial Day, May 30, 1958.

President Eisenhower's staff secretary, Brig. Gen. Andrew J. Goodpaster, was named by the chief executive to represent him in laying a wreath at the tomb in Arlington National Cemetery. The Disabled American Veterans was host organization at today's ceremonies.

KE WILL GET REPORT ON HIS HEALTH TODAY

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower gets a doctors' report today on the state of his health a year after election to a second term.

The President—who has called it a year of constant dealing with crises—entered Walter Reed Army Hospital yesterday afternoon for his first head-to-toe physical examination in a bit more than 12 months.

The White House called the examination routine, an annual precaution. Eisenhower arranged to check out his third-floor hospital suite before nightfall. The substance of the report he receives from his physicians probably will be made public.

Longest Gaps
This is the first time since the President's heart attack in September 1955 that anywhere near as much as a year has elapsed between his full-scale medical checkups. He had three last year, and his last complete examination was Oct. 27-28, 1956. The doctors reported then he gave "every appearance of being in excellent health."

Since then he has gone to the hospital twice for brief examinations of the heart and lungs, but did not stay overnight.

This latest examination comes as he faces a new speedup in a working pace already at a more taxing clip than at any time since his heart attack.

Wearing But Endurable
The President told a news conference two weeks ago there had not been a day in the preceding 13 months that he had not been faced with one crisis or another, international or domestic. He said he found that wearing at times but endurable because of his faith in America.

Lately, particularly since the Russian advances in the missile and satellite fields, he has been working longer than usual hours at his desk—and getting out to the golf course less frequently. The length of the lists of his daily engagements is a reminder of the early days of his first term.

The pace is likely to get faster. He is now organizing a drive to overtake and surpass Russia in development of space age weapons.

He goes to Oklahoma City Wednesday night for the second in a series of "chins up" speeches he has planned in an effort to bolster the nation's confidence.

He will be back in Washington for Mrs. Eisenhower's 61st birthday Thursday. Then he may go to Augusta, Ga., for a long weekend of golf and rest.

PERCIVAL REEVE DIES
HADDONFIELD, N.J. (AP) — Funeral services will be held Tuesday for Percival Reeve, retired manufacturer and descendant of William Penn's secretary. Reeve who died at his home here Friday was 86.

13 ARE DEAD IN TORNADO'S DIXIE TRAIL

ALEXANDRIA, La. (AP)—The tornado trail through five southern states left 13 dead, hundreds more injured or homeless and damage running into uncountable millions.

The twisting storms that hit the Gulf area late Thursday and early Friday killed seven in Louisiana, three in Texas, and two in Mississippi. A construction worker was killed in Newton, N. C., when he grabbed a power line blown down during another tornado.

A baby tornado also struck Selma, Ala., but no one was reported injured.

Alexandria, largest city in central Louisiana with a population of 40,000, took most of the fury of the storm that hit the state. The tornado lasted only six seconds, but killed three persons and heavily damaged a 10-block residential section.

At Orange, Tex., three persons died when their homes fell apart and at Greenwood, Miss., rescue workers found the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Parke, clasped together some distance from their home.

INGRID WORKS IN LONDON NOW
LONDON (AP) — Ingrid Bergman arrived in London last night to work on a new film and refused to discuss her break with her husband, Roberto Rossellini.

Her eyes filling with tears at a question about her legal separation last week from the Italian director, the actress said: "There has been too much reaction to our decision."

The reaction, she added, was "not much more considerable than it had been before," apparently a reference to the publicity which accompanied her affair with Rossellini nearly eight years ago while she was still married to Dr. Peter Lindstrom.

Miss Bergman said her three children by Rossellini would remain in Rome until she finds an apartment in London. She said she expected to remain in the British capital at least six months.

secretary, James Logan, Reeve was a native of Medford, N.J. He was president of Reeve & Mitchell Co., producers of cotton products, until his retirement in 1949.

Graham Prepares For Cow Palace

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham will begin today preparing California for his San Francisco crusade scheduled for next April.

Graham, who arrived yesterday, will meet today with 1,000 northern California ministers. Wednesday he will go to Hollywood for a meeting with some 600 stars and producers.

The six-week crusade will be held in San Francisco's Cow Palace.

but "I'll go back to Italy now and then . . . on and off." She added she has no plans to go to Hollywood. Miss Bergman also denied a Stockholm report that she plans to marry Lars Schmidt, a wealthy Swedish impresario. The actress was met at the airport by Cary Grant, her costar in the coming film comedy "Kind Sir."

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery

Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids
New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery. In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H. At your drugstore. Money back guarantee. *Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
